OBSERVE LABOR DAY

Local Unions of Mine Workers Give Parade and Picnic.

The local miners Monday observed Labor Day in good style. Although there was much heat and dust during the day a large crowd turned out and the celebration was a success in every way. Arrangements were made by Local Union No. 1827.

In the morning there was music in the court house yard by Patterson's band and the Italian band. Then the members of the unions paraded to Hoffman's park. Here there was a band stand, a dancing pavilion and various establishments for the dispensation of refreshments. All of these were kept busy during the day.

In the afternoon Carl Ristine spoke at one, Clarence Vivion at 1:30, Arch Helms of Richmond at three and W. M. Dewees at five. All the talks were interesting and received much applause.

Several athletic contests were pulled off. Stapleton won the foot race, West the swimming and Lajenne, in a snappy two fall contest with Jackson, the wrestling. There was a rope walking contest, but no one got very far along.

The rain in the evening prevented a continuation of the celebration at the grounds. So there was speaking at the court house by George Manuel of Moberly, ex-secretary and treasurer of District 25.

The day afforded opportunity for recreation and rest to the laborers, and those who had charge of the arrangements are to be congratulated on their success.

Heidenrich-Haller.

Mr. Paul Heidenrich and Miss Theresa Haller were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Catholic church. Mr. Heidenrich, who has been in the employ of Geo. Wittenberg for several years, is a young man of exemplary habits and enjoys the high regard of every one who knows him. The bride recently came here from Vienna, Austria, and is a young lady of refinement. The Intelligencer wishes them happiness and prosperity.

Oscar Andreen went to Kansas City Wednesday for a few days' stay.

Frank Howe went to Kansas City Wednesday on business.

Walter D. Glascock Married.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Glascock were in receipt of a little surprise Wednesday when they received a telegram from their son, Walter, announcing his marriage Tuesday evening at 3:30 o'clock to Miss Grace Burnett of Grand Junction, Colorado. The telegram was sent from Colorado Springs, where the ceremony was performed.

Mr. Glascock has a host of friends in Lafayette county, where he was born, who will rejoice in his new found happiness and wish him and his young bride a world of good things all through life. His father was a little jarred when the news came, but when the deeper significance, that of a new daughter and a loving helpmate to his son, once realized, the smile came and the paternal blessing was rapidly being constructed.

Mr. Glascock has a position with the Messelin Bridge Company of Canton, Ohio, with headquarters at Grand Junction, Col.

Louis Gratz Goes to Carthage.

Louis Gratz came down from Kansas City Sunday to spend a few days before moving to Carthage, Mo., where he has purchased the stock of clothing and gents furnishing goods of Robt. Blankenship. Mr. Gratz will have one of the most complete stocks in southwest Missouri. Mr. Gratz called at this office to renew his subscription to The Intelligencer. He said that in all his travels there wasn't a town in the middle west the size of Lexington that could compare with it, and that he couldn't reconcile himself to living anywhere else without having The Weekly Intelligencer to read.

John P. Gordon Injured.

State Auditor John P. Gordon was run over by an automobile in Kansas City Tuesday and quite seriously injured. Mr. Gordon was crossing Main street near Seventeenth when struck. He was taken to his room at the Baltimore hotel in a bruised and dazed condition. On examination it was found that no bones were broken, but that he was severely bruised and cut from his ankles to his hips. Mr. Gordon was in Kansas City on official business and to meet Mrs. Gordon, who was returning from an extended visit in New Mexico.

Mr. Coffin is widely known in Lexington, where he has for several years successfully conducted a photograph studio.

The bride was in Lexington several weeks during the early summer, and made many friends who will be glad that she is coming to Lexington to live.

The Intelligencer extends to them congratulations and best wishes for a happy and prosperous journey through life.

Congressman Borland Here.

Congressman Borland with his wife, little son, private secretary and chauffeur passed through here Tuesday on their way from Washington to Kansas City. They left Washington a week ago last Sunday in an automobile, and came through on the Old Trails Road without a single mishap. Congressman Borland has introduced a bill in congress for the Daughters of the American Revolution, for an appropriation to mark the Old Trails Road from ocean to ocean. He is enthusiastic over the prospects for national aid in the great road building movement, and predicts that the day is not far distant when this much discussed national highway from ocean to ocean will be a reality.

Mr. Borland and his party after taking dinner at the Nickell Home, left over the Santa Fe Trail for Kansas City.

HIS PAST.

—From New York World.

It will be remembered that it was in 1904 that Roosevelt wrote the celebrated "My Dear Mr. Harriman" letter, saying "you and I are practical men" and asking the millionaire magnate to the White House, and after a conference that Mr. Harriman raised $240,000, which was used in the campaign; and that it was also in this campaign Perkins contributed toward Roosevelt's campaign insurance company money belonging to women and children.

SUPT. HARWOOD MARRIES

Prominent Educator Takes unto Himself a Wife.

As announced in the Daily Times, W. D. Harwood, Superintendent of our schools, was married to Miss Clara Whiteside Wednesday at 10 o'clock a. m.

This marriage was not a great surprise to the friends of the couple for the board of education quietly gave it out that the Superintendent would be married before school opened this fall, and of course we rather expected the happy event to take place.

The wedding took place in Foraker, Oklahoma, at the home of the bride in the presence of a few invited guests, near relatives and friends. It was an impressive, well arranged affair and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Weeks of the Washington Avenue Baptist church of Oklahoma City.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Whiteside, and Rife Webb of Tulsa, acted as best man. Immediately after the wedding refreshments were served and the happy couple departed at once for Collinsville. They spent the night with the groom's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Harwood, in Tulsa, and came to Collinsville yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Harwood were due to arrive here Wednesday, but learning of the reception of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hicks, they stopped at Owasso and were met by Nat Wagoner, proprietor of the Elk Hotel and Lewis Allen, who motored them to this city. They are now at home at the Elk Hotel where they will be glad to meet their friends.

Mrs. Harwood was born and raised at Montgomery, Missouri. She is a beautiful, accomplished lady, a graduate of Harden College, Mexico, Mo. She taught in the city schools of Tulsa for two years and her accomplishments will be felt in our schools and the educational clubs of our city this winter.

Superintendent Harwood is a young man with a great future before him. He is a strong man in the educational field and will make our school second to none in the state. He was principal of Washington School, Sapulpa, last year and was elected Superintendent of our schools this spring. He has held other prominent positions as a teacher and we are confident he will find his helpmate a great assistance in his chosen profession.

We must all go around and get acquainted with these young people and wish them well in fighting the battles of life. The Times joins with their many friends and relatives in congratulations and trust they will never see a rainy day, but that their path may be one strewn with flowers.—Collinsville, Oklahoma Times.

HEADQUARTERS HERE

J. R. Moorehead Does Big Correspondence for National Federation of Retail Merchants.

J. R. Moorehead, secretary of the National Federation of Retail Merchants, is now conducting all of his correspondence from his office in Lexington, so that he will no longer be required to take many long and inconvenient trips. This will mean a substantial increase of the post office receipts and will do a great deal in advertising Lexington. The office employs two stenographers and sends out a continuous stream of mail.

The federation is organized to counteract the work of the mail order houses and thereby to keep money at home. Although it is young it has already done some effective work in getting the parcels post bill in its present form. The bill as originally proposed would have been of inestimable value to the mail order establishments. The mail order house as it now stands bids fair to develop into the biggest trust in the country and the National Federation of Retail Merchants is doing a great service in its endeavor to check the growth of what will if unchecked become a monopoly.

Mr. Moorehead is relying mainly upon education for results. When the people of a small community understand that it is to their interests to trade at home they will do so. He will fight all legislation, too, which discriminates against the small dealer.

The federation is growing rapidly and is already a power in the country. Its success is due largely to the ability and zeal of Mr. Moorehead.

Mrs. Elijah Neer, who has been visiting Misses Laura and Mary Davis, returned Tuesday to Page City.
